

The Program

BII offers one course in Latin, Epistles and Epigraphy (LAT 3311, 1B), and two courses in archaeology, Roman Topography (CLA 3321, 1B) and Archaeology of Sicily (CLA 4331, 1B). The archaeology courses are designed to give each participant in-depth background in the art, topography, and history of the ancient world.

Students fly to Rome for two weeks of on-site study. Afterwards the trip moves south for the next two weeks, through Campania (Capri, Pompeii, Naples, Paestum) and Sicily. The accommodations in Italy are all superb. The Hotel Sant' Anna in Rome, just a short walk from St. Peter's Basilica, is a beautifully renovated building. In Paestum and Palermo, the hotels are located right on the beach, with a panoramic view of the Mediterranean. All hotels are of comparable quality.

The sights, the sounds, the monuments, and the places you visit when you are in Italy, become the classroom. In this academic program, you will take notes on site, visit live excavations, climb under buildings, and see things off-limits to the general public.

Comments of students from former Baylor in Italy programs.

"It was a tremendous experience for me. I had always assumed that I could learn history from textbooks but nothing in a textbook can really compare with strolling through 2500-year-old ruins or experiencing a Sunday morning in St. Peter's Basilica. During the trip, I didn't merely learn history, I experienced, felt, and touched history. I highly recommend this program to anyone with even the slightest interest in the Roman, Greek, Biblical, Italian or medieval time periods."

"BII is the experience of a lifetime: I had the opportunity take highly interesting courses while being immersed in the powerful and imposing remains of the classical world. Neither the sites nor the experiences of this trip will be soon forgotten."

"This program expanded my love of and interest in the Classics and solidified my base of classical knowledge while providing an opportunity to live as a Roman."

"It was great - I got a better appreciation of classical architecture and history."
